BAD CHECK SIGNERS TO BE PROSECUTED

District Attorney Will Co-operate with Retail Merchants' Association.

District Attorney John E. Laskey tomorrow will be given a list of signers of spurious checks, and vigorous prosecution of the offenders will be urged by the Retail Merchants' Association.

The campaign against those who pass bogus paper was started by the Credit Men's Section of the association to demonstrate to members of Congress the necessity of a bad check law for the District.

When the association voted to become the clearing house for bad checks as they are received by local business houses it was not believed the practice was as general as the first week's results have indicated. A number of unusual cases have been discovered and District Attorney Laskey has promised co-operation to Secretary Charles J. Columbus in the prosecution of the culprits.

Under the new system, the individual members of the association are notified of the full facts in each case in which members have been swindled. They are thus provided with protection against further incursions of that character.
